THE MAGAZINE FOR THE CAREER DEVELOPMENT SECTOR

The new look Career Matters, a full colour 40-page magazine for the career development sector, is published four times a year by the Career Development Institute (CDI). The magazine includes a lively mix of sector news, articles, careers information, research, features, an international dimension and regulars like a letters page, events calendar and careers resources reviews, plus news about what is happening in the CDI and its regions.

The magazine is distributed free to CDI members (individuals, schools and organisations) but can also be purchased on a single issue basis or annual subscription by non-members who simply want to be kept updated on sector developments and activities*.

You can subscribe to Career Matters for £15.00 per year, or individual issues can be purchased for £4.99 plus £1.50 P&P per issue. The annual subscription additionally includes free occasional papers and special editions.

As one careers coordinator recently commented: 'The magazine is an invaluable resource for any school, college or university careers department and enables the whole careers team to keep up to date with issues and information directly affecting them and their pupils/students.'

*The cost of joining the CDI is less than you may think. Annual membership is £85, plus a once payable admin fee of £25 for individuals and £125 for Affiliate Organisations and comes with a wide range of benefits including a weekly newsletter; heavily discounted rates for attending training events and conferences and much more.
